- ADPT has changed trend direction after falling over 90% from its 2021 highs. ADPT rose above its steep, 18-month downtrend in July. The zoom chart reveals a double-bottom in May and June that confirms the lows have been set. A pattern of higher lows and higher highs since early June sets up a move to higher prices.

RRG analysis shows that Biotech (IBB) has just entered the Leading quadrant and that Health Care (XLV) has returned to the Leading quadrant after some short-term weakness.
